

SEES LITTLE DANGER
TO HEALTH OF ARMYSurgeon-General Gorgas Says It
Is in Better Condition Than in Spanish War.

DESCRIBES SAFEGUARDS

Renowned Sanitation Expert
Believes Troops Are Most Efficient in World.

Surgeon-General William C. Gorgas, U. S. A., discussing in the current number of the Engineering Record the sanitation problems that will have to be faced by the United States army in case of an actual invasion of Mexico, says the army is now in a much better position than it was during the Spanish-American war.

"In such an army as might be mobilized for service abroad," says Col. Gorgas, "we would expect some 120,000 regulars and twice as many volunteers. Of the regulars at least three years of experience that has taught them how to take care of themselves in the field and camp.

"Among the volunteers some considerable experience in the field is a result of military camps and the Spanish war—many veterans of that war being in the militia. The proportion of recruits will, however, be 75 to 76 per cent. of the total strength, as far as experience in the field is concerned. There will be, therefore, a considerable proportion of green men to be taught camp sanitation as well as given military instruction.

"Much of this will be given in concentration camps. Fortunately most of the officers of the volunteers will be men who are impressed with the value of sanitation in the field. They and the regulars and older soldiers will quickly instruct the new men in the habits so essential to health in camp.

"There exists, then, a vast store to lean on when the war breaks out in 1918. The medical department of the army have been studying and practicing military hygiene and sanitation with brilliant results, as demonstrated in the large camps in Texas. Here 10,000 men lived for a year at a time with a sick rate lower than that at the average post.

"Better yet, the officers of the line, impressed with the value of the lessons in camp sanitation, have been enthusiastic supporters of these advances and are hardly second to medical officers in their knowledge and experience in such matters. The army, then, is in an entirely different position than at the outbreak of the Spanish war. The 20,000 cases of typhoid that then puzzled and distressed the people of this country will not repeat themselves in the camps as a sign of sanitary incompetence.

"Anti-typhoid inoculation, which has been in vogue in the army since 1909, and which so efficiently protected it in 1913 when it was first used, is now being inoculated in the army of 50,000, is to be trusted to keep our camps free of this disease so fatal to armies of the past.

"Yellow fever is robbed of much of its terrors for the first time in this country. It is now being kept out of the army by the means of transmission, and consequently the manner of avoiding it.

"Thus, forewarned we are forearmed. The army is in a position of complete ability and in the sanitary training of the line to feel that we can exist in the campaign in a state of hygienic competence that the disabilities of the war will be limited for the first time in the history of the New World, to wounds, and that disease will not kill more than bullets. The American people will have support given every day by the most efficient army of its size in the world."

FOUL COLLECTION TO BE SOLD.

Was Acquired by the Late J. Pierpont Morgan in 1910.

A despatch from Paris printed in today's Times says that the Foule collection of rare books on ornaments and architecture purchased by the late J. Pierpont Morgan in 1910 for $200,000 with a view to supplementing the Hermitage collection of art objects now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York is to be sold by auction at the Hotel Drouot from June 5 to June 8 by three bidders.

A representative of the Labarre-Boncompagni, which is handling the collection, is quoted as saying that the collection was sent recently from New York. He declines to give the date, and also declines to say whether this is the beginning of the dispersal of the great Morgan collection by the present J. Pierpont Morgan.

It is asserted that the Foule collection has already been sold by Mr. Morgan. The auctioneer and library both say they expect the sale to realize 1,000,000 francs ($120,000).

BLOCKADE AT MONTE CRISTI.

President Bordas Now Holds Two Ports of Santo Domingo.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A blockade of Monte Cristi, in addition to that being maintained at Puerto Plata, was declared today by President Bordas of Santo Domingo. Capt. Hierer of the U. S. S. Albatross, co-commander of the Navy Department. Value has been taken by the Government forces, it was also reported.

A number of minor skirmishes were reported today from interior points, none of them of importance, in each instance the rebels were put to flight.

The Dominican gunboat Independence arrived at Santo Domingo city at 3 o'clock this afternoon and will sail for Puerto Plata tomorrow with troops aboard.

NORDICA WILL MADE, HE SAYS.

Edgar Adams Tells of Document—Singer Despondent.

Edgar Adams, of Colorado, who is reported to be a trip to Australia, New Zealand and the East Indies as United States commissioner for the Panama-Pacific exposition, has brought word that Miss Lillian Nordica made him an offer of $100,000 when she was aboard the steamship Tasman. The Tasman had run ashore in the Gulf of Papua, he said previously.

Mr. Adams says the singer was despondent over her health before the accident, and sent for him and he added for in drawing the will.

SOLACE GETS IN WITH TWO VERA CRUZ DEAD

Hospital Ship Carries Also 31
Wounded—The Texas Leaves for the South.

The United States hospital ship Solace arrived at Quarantine last midnight with the bodies of two sailors who died from wounds received at Vera Cruz, the last of the national roll of honor as a result of the Mexican trouble. She also brought thirty-one men who were wounded in the capture of the city and thirty-one others who contracted diseases there.

At 9 o'clock this morning, after she is inspected by the health authorities of the port, the Solace will steam to the navy yard. Ambulances will be in waiting there and the ill and wounded will be transferred at once to the Naval Hospital in the yard.

Medical Inspector Luther L. Von Wedekind, who commands the Solace, sent word to the Navy Department yesterday that the ship was doing well and that recovery was expected in every case. The bodies of the dead will be landed this morning and will be sent at once to the nearest cemetery under a suitable escort of sailors detailed by Capt. Albert Gleaves, commandant of the yard.

The body of Ray Harry Pulliam, first class freeman, will be sent to his father, W. C. Pulliam, at New York, and the body of Clarence O. Herschberger, son of his father, C. O. Herschberger, 190 Centre street, Waverly, N. Y.

How long the Solace will remain here depends upon the speed with which she can be loaded with medical supplies for the fleet and can be overhauled. She will take back with her forty-one convalescents who have been ordered to return to their ships.

The navy yard is now, for the first time in two years, without a battleship. The Solace is to depart for the Texas, which steamed away for the flying squadron's berth in Mexican waters.

Capt. A. W. Grant said that the ship, which left before reaching Mexico, had on board a full complement of supplies at Hampton Roads, which will be the only stop before reaching Mexico. The supply ship Celtic arrived yesterday to take another cargo to the fleet. It will take about two weeks to load her.

LIVERPOOL STRIKE AT AN END.

Demand of 3,000 Ship Workmen for Shorter Hours Granted.

LIVERPOOL, May 13.—The strike of the 3,000 ship workmen which began here yesterday ended to-day. The demand of the men for shorter hours was granted.

HIT TOO HARD TO OBJECT.

American Sculptor Won't Have to Fight Duel With Critic.

PARIS, May 12.—Because Edgar MacAdams, an American sculptor, merely struck him a violent blow with his fist, instead of drawing his gloves across his face or striking with his fists, he declines to give the date, and also declines to say whether this is the beginning of the dispersal of the great Morgan collection by the present J. Pierpont Morgan.

THOUSANDS FOLLOW

Mgr. Brann Eulogizes Young
Dennis Lane, Killed at Vera Cruz.

LOVED FLAG SINCE A BABY

Public School Children Pay
Tribute to Bier of Albert
Stream in Brooklyn.

Thousands gathered yesterday morning outside 329 East Forty-fifth street, the former home of Dennis J. Lane, one of the bluejackets who was killed at Vera Cruz, to pay their final tribute.

The coffin, draped in a flag, was carried from the house at 9:30 o'clock, and the crowds in the street bared heads as eight sailors placed it in a hearse to be carried to St. Agnes's Roman Catholic church in East Forty-third street. The St. Francis Xavier Cadets, in command of Major Paul J. McLaughlin, played slowly Chopin's Funeral March, moved to the church. After the hearse followed carriages containing the family and close friends of the dead sailor.

The church was crowded. Including the people in the streets who could not get inside it is estimated that 10,000 persons gathered to honor the young man. Lane had attended the parochial school of St. Agnes and later had gone to St. Francis Xavier's High School. Mgr. Brann, who delivered the eulogy, knew him well.

"He had inherited his love for the flag from his mother, who earned the love into his arms during his earliest babyhood. All the boys in Ireland heard praise of this land of liberty, and they grew up to know and love the Stars and Stripes. To love the flag was as natural to him as it is to all who love liberty and right."

"Our stars shine out to liberty to all the world, but we should not forget that our flag has stripes too, and they are for every man who violates liberty, honor and right. Those who would destroy our social peace by riots and anarchy are enemies of false theories should not lose sight of this fact. Let them be sent to their own countries. Let them make their trouble there, but if they remain let them beware of arousing the American people."

The funeral of Albert Eric Stream, 19 years old, a bluejacket of the New Jersey, who was killed at the occupation of Vera Cruz, was held yesterday from his parents' home at 227 Sixty-seventh street, Bay Ridge.

The services at the home were brief and simple. A short prayer of the Rev. Herman Litorin and the flag draped coffin, a wreath from President Wilson at the head, was borne from the house by a detachment of bluejackets from the receiving ship Tennessee. The coffin was covered with floral tributes from patriotic individuals and organizations.

In the procession, which was headed by a detachment of sailors, marched Spanish war veterans and members of the Barrow Club of the Bay Ridge Baptist Church. The coffin reposed on a caisson provided by the Second Reading room, 162 East 102nd street, and was followed by a caisson carrying a guard of honor. In the march to the First Swedish Baptist Church, where services were again held, the procession passed Public School 162, at 102nd street and Second street.

The pupils turned out and the school colors were dipped.

From the church the procession proceeded to the cemetery at Bay Ridge, where the customary three volleys were fired over the grave of the youth who had died "in the line of duty."

RIOT IN CHICAGO AT COFFIN.

Mother of Marine Caught in Crush
When Scores Fainted.

CHICAGO, May 13.—A panic in City Hall marked the removal there this afternoon of the body of Marine Corporal Daniel W. Haggerty, who was killed at Vera Cruz. So great was the crush to view the catafalque in the rotunda of the municipal building that scores of women fainted, while men caught in the smothering press, cried for air. Only the names of twelve women who succumbed were obtained by the police, but among these was Mrs. Morris Melsenberg, mother of the dead hero.

Cool headed elevator men did much to avert disaster. They opened the doors of their cages and carried those nearest them to upper floors, while the police sought to quiet those in the corridors.

Finally the crush became so great that Police Lieutenant Conroy sent in a riot call and the reinforcements succeeded in restoring order.

100 HURT AT HERO'S BIER.

Militia Called to Disperse Throng Around Coffin of Haggerty.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 13.—A company of militia was called into service here to-night to stem the human tide that swept over the armory when men and women became excited in their efforts to view the body of Corporal Daniel W. Haggerty, one of the men who died at Vera Cruz. More than a hundred women were knocked down and trampled upon, and at one time the injured filled every room in the officers' quarters.

Fifty policemen doing duty at the armory found themselves powerless and an assembly call for the militia was given. The militia succeeded in forming lanes through which the curious passed in a more orderly fashion. Several ambulances were summoned and the doctors were kept busy bandaging the cut and bruised.

FINANCIAL REFORM IN CUBA.

President Menocal Urges National
Bank with $20,000,000 Capital.

HAVANA, May 13.—In a special message to Congress President Menocal recommended the chartering of a national bank with a capital of $20,000,000 and the privilege of issuing double this amount in bills against the Government, giving bonds as security. The coinage of fractional currency also is recommended.

The money now in use officially on the island is American, although business is transacted also with Spanish and French gold coin and Spanish silver money.

DUAL A GREAT WORLD PORT.

Germany Plans to Make It Most Important Point in Africa.

BERLIN, May 13.—In the Reichstag today Dr. Solf, the Minister of the Colonies, in answering criticisms of the Government's action in transferring the management of the lands from the natives at Duala, at the mouth of the Cameroon River, said that the action was prompted by a desire to improve hygienic conditions there.

It also is the intention of the Government, Dr. Solf said, to make Duala a great world port and the most important in Africa.

Duchesse de Talleyrand Withdraws Her Objection to Annulment Proceedings.

DECISION IS NOW LIKELY

Case Has Been Before the Rota
Tribunal in Rome
Since 1907.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.
PARIS, May 13.—The Duchesse de Talleyrand, formerly Anna Gould of New York, announces that having successfully defended the suit brought by creditors of her first husband, Count Boni de Castellane, for possession of her Paris house, and having refuted through the medium of her Roman lawyers the calumnies about her by the Castellane family and Count Boni's friends, she has decided to withdraw her opposition to the annulment of her first marriage.

This opposition, she says, was not prompted by motives of spite, but simply by her desire to protect her own interests and those of her children. The case is still pending in Rome, but it is expected that the Duchesse's decision will facilitate the obtaining of a favorable decision by Count Boni.

Count Boni de Castellane began his suit for the annulment of the religious ceremony by the Rota Tribunal in 1907, after his former wife had obtained a divorce and had married the Duke de Talleyrand. The tribunal rendered a decision in favor of annulment December 9, 1911. There was a second decision March 1, 1913, this one opposing annulment. In accordance with the code of the Rota Tribunal no annulment suit is finally decided before two similar decisions, whether favorable or otherwise, have been handed down.

The Duchesse appealed to the Segnatura Tribunal, the supreme court of the Church, from the second decision. The appeal was rejected and the case then came up again as a matter of regular procedure.

$2,045 PAID FOR A VASE.

Finely Painted Object d'Art Brings
High Price at Christie's.

LONDON, May 13.—A vase and cover of scroll outline, the ground colored crimson and with raised green and scroll borders and handles was the most notable of the art pieces disposed of in a sale of porcelain and decorative furniture, "The property of a nobleman," at Christie's today. The purchase price was $109 ($2,045).

One side of the vase is finely painted, Cupid and Psyche appearing in a large panel enclosed by gilt flowers, while on the other are a landscape and exotic birds in a similar panel. The neck and cover are of pierced trelliswork and the whole is fifteen inches high.

PARIS, May 13.—The three days sale of the Bonaparte collection of pictures was concluded today. At the final session 148 lots of modern art objects, chiefly paintings, were sold for $1,999 francs ($312,328).

The most interesting were seven ceramics made by Auguste Rodin when he was employed at the State manufactory at Sevres. In this number were five vases which brought respectively 1,520 francs ($244); 1,420 francs ($229); 1,950 francs ($312); 600 francs ($96), and 550 francs ($88).

GREY SEES HOPE IN MEDIATION.

Thinks Possibilities of Further
Bloodshed Will Be Minimized.

LONDON, May 13.—The Standard says this morning that Sir Edward Grey is considering the despatches which have been received from the United States at Mexico city dealing exhaustively with the Mexican situation, and that he will submit them to the Cabinet soon with his (Sir Edward's) notes thereon.

It is understood that Sir Edward Grey will advise the Cabinet that in his judgment no useful purpose is to be served by the A. B. C. mediation conferences, but that the same time a line of policy will be indicated which will go far to minimize the possibilities of further bloodshed.

OBSERVATORY FOR MT. BLANC.

Site on Glacier du Grand Chosen by French Academy.

PARIS, May 13.—A new astronomical observatory is to be established on Mont Blanc by the French Academy of Sciences before which the plans of the building have been laid by Maurice Hamy, director of the Paris Observatory.

The new site has been chosen on a solid group of rocks called Petit Flammion, at the center of the glacier du Grand Chosen at an altitude of 2,450 meters (14,700 feet). The spot is noted for the purity of the surrounding atmosphere.

PICTURE SLASHER SENTENCED.

Mary Ansell, Suffragette, Sent to Prison for Six Months.

LONDON, May 13.—A sentence of six months imprisonment was imposed today on Mary Ansell, the militant suffragette who invaded the Royal Academy yesterday and with a hatchet slashed the portrait of the Duke of Wellington three times.

A plea of guilty was entered by Miss Ansell when she was arraigned in the London Sessions.

MAPS WRONG, SAYS T. R.,
DEFENDING HIS RIVER

Colonel Replies to Markham,
Asserting His Criticism
Was Only a Boost.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.
BRIDGEPORT, BARBADOS, May 13.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who arrived here yesterday, says that Sir Clements Markham, who, a few days ago, expressed indignation in discussing the Colonei's reported discovery of a river nearly a thousand miles long, unconsciously paid the highest tribute to the discovery.

In his comment Sir Clements said the details given by the Colonei did not seem to fit with the known aspects of the country.

Mr. Roosevelt says that the best existing maps are utterly wrong in their treatment of that part of South America in which the river flows. They misrepresent the courses of the Gyanama and its affluents, while the mountains they name are for the most part imaginary. The mountain on which he and his companions were encamped, he says, appears in the maps as a valley.

The Colonei asserts that the lower part of the river which he explored has long been known to rubber gatherers as the Apurimac and the upper part as the Castancho, but that it has never been placed on a map. Bartholomew's map, he says, does not limit of the existence of the river which he descended.

ROOSEVELT CABLE DOUBTED.

F. W. Bird Doesn't Believe Colonei
Talked of Nomination in 1916.

The assertion attributed to Theodore Roosevelt, cabled from Barbados, that if he runs for President in 1916 "must be on a Progressive platform which the Republicans must accept," aroused much interest yesterday among politicians. The Progressives, who accept they will go to the Colonei, were skeptical of the cabled interview.

Francis W. Bird, chairman of the Progressive county committee, insisted he did not believe the Colonei ever said such a thing. "The Colonei has no idea of accepting the Republican nomination in 1916," he said. "He couldn't possibly accept such a nomination."

William Barnes, Jr., the Colonei's political arch-enemy, insisted when asked about the statement. Then he said, "It's no use exchanging shots at 1,000 miles. Wait until he gets back home."

WOULD BAN WILDE'S PORTRAIT.

Chelsea Councilors Object to It for Ethical Reasons.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.
CHelsea, England, May 13.—The town councilors have resolved to remove a portrait of Oscar Wilde from the town hall, where it was placed recently. The portrait cost £200 ($3,000). Some objected to the retention of the picture on artistic grounds but the majority were prompted by ethical reasons.

The opponents of the resolution ridiculed the proposed action and asked why the portraits of George Eliot, Byron and Shelley also should not be removed.
